The clever oven rack with silicone edge protection for on the go

The RoadRack Top has been specifically designed for the upper level of the camping oven RoadBaker, but it is also compatible with the Omnia oven with a diameter of 25 cm. Thanks to the integrated silicone edge protection, this high-quality oven rack reliably protects sensitive non-stick coatings from scratches and damage.

Ideal for preparing baked goods such as chips, fish fingers, croquettes or mini pizzas. You can also use it to effortlessly steam vegetables or fish – the rack allows for even heat distribution and contributes to efficient cooking.

Made from robust stainless steel, the RoadRack Top stands for durability and reliable performance – even with regular use while travelling. The thoughtful design makes everyday life on the go easier and ensures clean results with every use.

For maximum versatility, the RoadRack Top can be combined with the separately available RoadRack Base for the lower level. This allows you to prepare larger portions or multiple dishes at the same time – a practical solution for cooking for several people.
