The portable gas barbecue 200 SGR impresses with its progressive and modern design, which is not only visually appealing, but also has many practical details to offer. This makes it the ideal companion for any holiday.

Cook and grill at the same time

The barbecue has three cooking plate and a separate grilling surface of around 1580 cm². This means that you can cook side dishes while grilling meat or fish to perfection at the same time.

No spurting flames

Another outstanding feature is the upper heat radiation. It minimises the risk of spurting flames caused by dripping fat or marinades. In addition, an easy-to-clean grease drip tray makes cleaning easier.

Easy to transport

All parts can be conveniently stowed away in the barbecue for transport and storage, which further increases the user-friendliness and functionality of the SGR portable gas barbecue. Incl. 80 cm hose and manual rotating spit.
