Quickfree regulator spanner – for camping gas cylinders

The Quickfree regulator spanner from LILIE is a high-quality aluminium spanner for safely loosening and tightening gas pressure regulators on propane and camping gas cylinders. Its robust and lightweight design makes it ideal for long-term use in outdoor and camping settings.

The spanner remains attached directly to the gas cylinders, ensuring it is always within reach – even in cold, darkness or when wearing gloves. This allows regulators to be operated safely without effort or risk of injury.

A practical, durable tool for added comfort and safety in gas supply for camping, caravanning and leisure activities.
