The Devil Powerkook GP stove is the ideal companion for outdoor trips – be it camping or caravanning. This gas-powered device features a high-quality stainless steel cooking surface and is equipped with two powerful burners, each with 2.4 kW. Thanks to its flexible design, the Powerkook offers many possibilities for cooking and grilling: two non-stick cooking plates – one smooth and one ridged – provide variety at the stove.

The stove's design focuses on high safety and comfortable transport. The lid is equipped with two locks and a front handle, making it practical and safe to carry. A piezoelectric ignition allows for quick and easy starting. For easy cleaning, the sturdy pan supports are easily removable, ensuring the cooking surface remains in top condition.

Features:

- Automatic, safe and user-friendly piezo ignition
- Quick coupling for gas cylinders for a reliable, secure connection
- Incl. hose and regulator
- Lid serves as a windshield for increased safety when used outdoors
- Two removable side windshields with magnetic fasteners
