Highly absorbent and odourless

With the Trelino® separating toilet cover material made from softwood fibres, using dry separating toilets becomes particularly hygienic and comfortable. The fine cover material is mainly produced from spruce and fir wood – a by-product of the sawmill industry. No trees are felled for its production.

Thanks to its high absorbency, the cover material reliably binds moisture and naturally reduces unpleasant odours. The rounded granules protect bags and containers from damage – sharp wood splinters are a thing of the past. Before filling, the cover material is carefully de-dusted to minimise dust formation during use.

It is very simple to use: about 50 g is sufficient to effectively cover solid waste. The cover material is ideal for camping and mobile use. For long-lasting storage, it is recommended to keep it in a dry and cool place.

- Material: softwood fibres (spruce/fir)
- Highly absorbent, natural odour control
