The Sirius table lamp combines modern design with practical functionality. Made from high-quality metal, it provides a pleasant atmosphere with its warm white light (3000 K) – perfect for cosy evenings or stylish table lighting.

Thanks to the innovative touch button, the lamp is easy to operate, while the integrated dimmer function allows you to individually adjust the brightness. Particularly flexible: the lamp can be set to two different heights (17 and 28 cm), allowing you to perfectly adapt the lighting to various situations.

The robust steel base ensures that the lamp stands securely – even on uneven surfaces. The rechargeable lithium battery (4 Ah, 3.7 V) provides wireless comfort and a long illumination duration.

Be it for camping, garden parties or your living area – the Sirius table lamp is a stylish, practical light source for any occasion.
